Sir:

In checking over the printed copy of the above-identified patent, we have found the following three errors. Error #2 is not the fault of the Patent and Trademark Office. It is respectfully requested that all three errors be corrected in accordance with 37 CFR §1.323. The errors to be corrected are listed below.

1. Patent claim 9 (corresponding to application claim 9), line 8, should read, in part, "abscisic acid beta-D-glucose ester". Application claim 9 was not amended until the undersigned approved an examiner's amendment on April 15, 2004. Application claim 9, line 6, as originally filed, and line 8 as subsequently appearing in listings of claims presented with amendments filed October 14, 2003, and March 30, 2004, reads as "abscisic acid beta-D-glucose ester". The examiner's amendment accompanying the Notice of Allowance dated April 20, 2004, and subsequently presented in a listing of claims in the §1.312 amendment of June 28, 2004, inserted a comma between "acid" and "beta-." The insertion of the comma was an error on the part of the USPTO.

2. Patent claim 9 (corresponding to application claim 9), line 9, reads "2-2(2-p-chlorophenyl-transethyl-cyclopropane carboxylic". The parenthetical expression was not closed. The omission of the closing parenthesis was inadvertently entered in the listing of the claims in the amendment filed October 14, 2003. As can be seen from application claim 9, lines 6-7, as originally filed, this should read: "2-2(2-p-chlorophenyl-transethyl)-cyclopropane carboxylic". This is an error on the part of applicant.

3. Patent claim 12 (corresponding to application claim 14), line 2, reads "PCIB concentration between". As can be seen from application claim 14, line 1, as originally filed, this should read "PCIB at a concentration between". This was not amended either by applicant or the examiner during prosecution. This is a PTO error.

When the changes are considered, it will be clear that the errors are of a typographical or clerical error in nature and/or of minor character, which occurred in good faith. Correction thereof does not involve such changes in the patent as would constitute "new matter" or would require re-examination.

Attached please find PTO Form 2038 authorizing payment in the amount of $100.00 to cover the appropriate fee for corrections under 37 CFR §1.323. If insufficient fees are specifically authorized, please charge same to Deposit Account No. 02-4035.

We are also attaching one copy of the Certificate of Correction form.

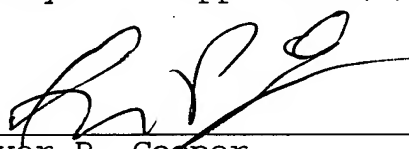

Granting of this request is earnestly solicited.

Respectfully submitted,
